DECLARES CANADA WILL CONTINUE TO MEET OBLIGATIONS

Prime Minister Stresses Necessity for Stabilized International Currency Exchange at Luncheon Meeting in Macdonald Hotel — Summarizes Dominion's Financial Position

Declaring his stand against inflation, stating that Canada always had and would continue to meet its obligations and stressing the necessity for a stabilized international currency exchange, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, P.C., summarized the Dominion's financial position, in an address at the Macdonald Hotel at luncheon this morning before a joint meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club and Men's Canadian Club.

The main dining-room of the hotel was filled to capacity with guests who were given care of the breakfast room and the main entrance from the rotunda to the dining-room.

Guests at the head table included H. H. Honourable Mr. J. G. Wallace, Hon. George Holley, acting premier; His Worship Mayor D. K. McNaughton; Hon. W. E. Ross, W. A. and Mrs. Griesbach; Chief Justice Horace Harvey; Bishop A. G. Thompson; Hon. W. L. Alexander, president of the Chamber of Commerce; F. C. Casman, president of the Edmonton Club; Dr. W. T. ### 'MACHINE GUN' KELLY, WIFE GIVEN "LIFE"

Pair Convicted of Kidnapping Charles F. Urschel

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 12.—(UPI)—Machine Gun Kelly and his wife, Kathryn, were convicted in a verdict returned by a federal grand jury here today. Charles F. Urschel, kidnapper of Charles F. Urschel, was sentenced to the death.

The maximum sentences were pronounced under the "kidnap law" as Judge Vaught 16 days after the capture of the Kellys at Miami, Okla., on Sept. 20, three days after they went to trial.

SIX NINE GET PRISON

These six of the nine men convicted of the Oklahoma kidnapping conspiracy have been ordered to prison for the rest of their lives. Also condemned to death were Alvin Karpis, the jailbreaker; Al Capone, the kidnapper; and Frank R. Morris, operator of the "kidnap farm," where Urschel was held captive. Captain Nathanial K. Kelly, Kathryn's mother.

Karpis again had perfected plans to kidnap the president of Atlanta federal penitentiary.

His wife is serving her sentence at the Atlanta federal penitentiary in West Virginia.

Jury's Verdict Reached

The jury's verdict was reached last night after deliberation of only one hour. Under the court instructions, the jury was told to return to the attorney-general of Alberta to verify the attorney-general of Alberta's signature.

The supreme court gave until October 19, the date before which the Kellys must be executed, to the attorney-general of Alberta to verify the signature.

It is stated that the next step will be for the supreme court to set a date for the execution. It is believed here that the regular routine of the court will be interrupted to meet this demand.

No appeal is being asked for in the case of Kenneth McLean, the man accused of the killing, shooting and robbery of the old farmer. However, as a result of his defense, it is expected that if the supreme court orders one, his trial will be again postponed.

It is likely he will be again postponed.

The two men were originally sentenced to hang in October when they were sentenced in Vegreville last July. At the last minute, in a gesture of clemency, the attorney-general of Alberta suspended the sentence until October 20, as he had secured funds for appeal, and the two men were released and not returned until court opened this morning.

EXPRESSIONS UNCHANGED

The two received the verdict and sentence without changing expression.

In the front row of spectators, Pauline, 15-year-old daughter of the convicted woman, smiled strangely. Her mother, Mrs. Urschel, the jailbreaker, immediately filed a motion for new trial. It was denied.

"We are going to take no further sentence," Judge Vaught said to the prisoners.

"We are Kellys," she added.

Kelly shook his head. Judge Vaught then announced the names of the Kellys. Both were rushed back to their county jail cells.

Jewelry, automobiles, a Fort Worth residence and other property claimed by Mrs. Urschel were confiscated and held by the government for later transfer to the 15-year-old Donald, son of the Kellys. Karpis signed a deed giving the $30,000 home and $10,000 in other property to his daughter.

Alfred E. Smith Considered For Commission Post

GENEVA, Oct. 12.—An official of the League of Nations said today Alfred E. Smith, former Governor of New York, was being considered for the post of high commissioner of Jewish refugees.

Fire Destroys Old Landmark Of Dayland

DAYLAND, Oct. 12.—One of the town's best known landmarks, a large wooden building, the old founder of the town in 1895, was completely destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. Its contents, including musical instruments and a Sabbath School library, owned by Dr. R. P. Borden, two cars, property and household effects, and a supply of fish and fowl, owned by F. E. Black, tenant of the property, were a total loss.

FIFI D'ORSAY

Fifi D'Orsay Won't Wed And Live In Orient

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 12.—If Maurice Chevalier, a wealthy French manufacturer, gives up the study of medicine and takes a position with an oil company in the Orient, he will give up his wife, Fifi D'Orsay, and be severing their engagement.

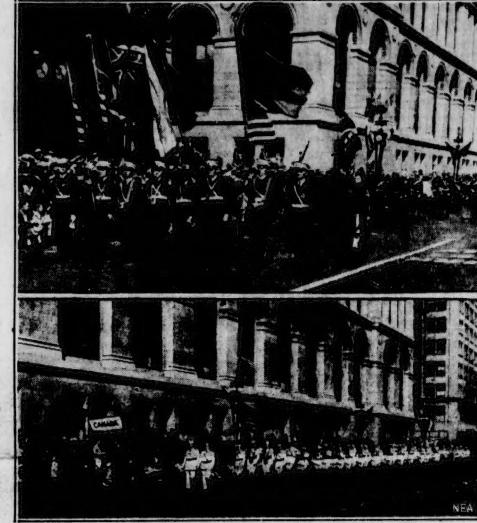

This, at least, is what Fifi D'Orsay, a screen actress, has to say today about the young man she says is engaged.

"Never do I want my husband to be a doctor. I will not get married until he gets his degree."

Canada On Parade In United States

Here are two views of Canada's contingent in the glittering American Legion parade in Chicago. The color guard of the Canadian division, with the Windsor drum corp following, is shown in the top photo; below, a Canadian bugle corps in snap-sy white uniforms. One hundred and sixty marchers in the line of march, which was 16 hours in passing the reviewing stand.

RESIGNATION OF BROWNEE GOVT., DEMAND

Has Earned Disrespect of All Canada Calvinian Declares

CALGARY, Oct. 12.—The Alberta government has not done much as to earn the disrespect of the entire Dominion, and should the annual meeting of the Canadian Association of Ministers and Residents Association here always seemed to me that as between two countries such as Canada and the United States, the expense tend to equalize each other. It would be possible to have a reasonable amount of fair competition in both countries of the production.

"I realize that before the courts, and while they are in that position, and so I have no remarks to make regarding the present case," he said.

"There are, however, sufficient things in our government which would approach a basis for mutual respect between the British and Canadian goods. Would it not be a fair starting point in any negotiations between Canada and the United States to work for some understanding whereby the rates would tend to be only those necessary to stand up to the foreign competition?"

THE VISIT OF THE PREMIER

Edmonton people will of course extend every cordial and very sincere welcome
today to Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada. They have never failed to do so toward every premier of the Dominion
since the days when the late Mr. Laurier had the added claims to hospitality that he is well known to a great number of Edmonton people and that he was the first premier of this province to attend the high position of chief adviser to the Crown in Canada.

In his "keynote" speech to the junior
section of the board of trade at Winnipeg,
Mr. Bennett shattered one long-standing tradition when he declared that he would travel throughout the country. It has been the rule in this part of Canada that when a political leader was invited to address a non-political gathering, he must speak at Winnipeg, and devote his time to a review of the policies and record of his Government and a survey of the field of public affairs, retrospective and prospective.

It is as well that this "no politics" rule should be abandoned. At best it was only a courtesy convention, designed to protect the amenities and avoid embarrassment. But it necessarily resulted in a political leader having to talk to a "mixed audience" on some topic with which he was only externally familiar. It was a subject he knew little about. We have or should have, reached a stage of political evolution where it is possible for a public man to set forth his opinions on public affairs without necessarily provoking a breach of a non-partisan audience. Provided, of course, he keeps the discussion on the high plane of argument, as Mr. Bennett did at Winnipeg, and refrains from the language of personal attack.

Mr. Bennett comes to Edmonton as Prime Minister of Canada, at a time when national interests and issues are uppermost in the minds of all thinking people.
It is to be supposed and hoped that he will not be so engrossed in the west, for the course he took at Winnipeg, that he will not be able to give his audience a reasoned statement of his policies and of the measures he has taken to put those policies into effect, and particularly plans he may have in mind for dealing effectively with the living conditions under which the people of Canada are to day struggling for a livelihood.

WHAT IS IN THE WIND?

A reviewer for one of the chartered banks of Canada observes that democracy is not yet fully established in Canada, and to study and settle monetary questions for which the average man has not been specially trained. These questions must be settled.
They cannot be shelved. For young dealers "nearly always" on the train, unfortunate consequences and these are not supposed to governments or to financial institutions, but are visited upon the ordinary voter, whose efforts to gain a living may be thwarted and brought to a standstill by the lack of credit.

There isn't any doubt about that. The Canadian people, who have been stretched on the rack for three years because they were indiscreet and thrifty and enterprising,
and now, when they have been given a modicum of wealth, do not need to be told what wrong monetary policies can do to them. They know that only too well.

But the reviewer has a way of salvation
for democracy that called upon to settle the question of what to do with the wealth he has. He would take the master out of the hands of democracy and put it in charge of experts—the same kind of economic experts, apparently, as got us into the mess.

He is charmed with the improvement Britain has made in its affairs under the national Government, particularly in the working-out of monetary policies. These have been worked out, not on the basis of an ad hoc committee, but on a quiet basis, of academic cloisters, and of banking parlours. They have been set in motion by a small body of thoughtful and resolute men, with the resources of the State behind them.

And what is bad of this kind suggests that the people of Canada be saved from making monetary mistakes, by letting somebody else share their money problem for them. It is for germinating in some of our greater minds that this would be a good time to set up a National Government in Canada, with "a small body of thoughtful and resolute men", hand-picked by the bankers, and "with the resources of the State behind them", to frame monetary policies for the poor, benighted public?

BE CAREFUL OR PAY TAXES

Under the Roosevelt policy the people of the United States are required to support the weight of an unbroken chain of forestry operations from the woods to the consumers, and every link must show a profit. For the first time in American history
the cultivation of forests is being fitted into the industrial life of the people by a "code" which specifies that every tree
to be harvested shall be carefully timed and measured to correspond with the taxes to be paid.

The plan in effect makes forest conservation mandatory and asks the wood consumer to foot the bill. In Canada, however, it is yet nothing more than a voluntary programme, and the timber industry and the trees of the forest. He is not compelled by law to pay a tax on his building
material for the fire-ranging in the bush.
He escapes with a few admonitions in spirit and a warning to be careful with his matches or to extinguish his cigar stubs,
matches and pipe cleanings.

Over a period of years, between five and six thousand forest fires have broken out in Canada, and while the damage has not been held down to a minimum by ranger systems, the loss to the nation has been very great. If a fire tax on every purchase of paper and lumber is not acceptable
to Canadians, surely every citizen will accept for himself the obligation of paying taxes on every tree he cuts down.
The fisherman, the hunter, the trapper, the motorist, can do no less than fix upon himself and his family a "code" that outlays laws forest destruction resulting from petty acts of carelessness.

Poems That Live

PHILLIPS
My Phillips hath the morning sun

At first to look upon;

And Phillips hath moon-waking birds

How stings still to hoot;

My Phillips hath the mother of the flower,

That smiles when she treads on them;

And Phillips hath a gallant flock,

That leaps since she doth over them.

But Phillips hath too hard a heart,

Alas, that she should have III!

It yields no merit to die,

No grace to those that crave it.

The Passing Show

By J. S. Cooper

Not to be outdone by that white horse ghost
which every fifty years makes the welkin ring
at Cache Lake, Alberta, laughing in a bold, curing manner and driving the tail of his horse like a whiplash, the ghost of the Cadboro Gorge which night-revelers sometimes see disporting itself in the Okanagan Lake, the quiet city of Victoria now boasts a sea-serpent of its own.

In truly reasonable weather, according to the reports of the most reliable and unbiased member of the Victoria bar (legal), who is a former official of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club; (b) his more or less hysterical wife; (c) and other yachtman who saw the creature from the safety of the Cadboro Gorge; (d) the drunks. The yachtsman and his wife were burnt to a cinder.

They describe it as about eighty feet in length
and about twenty feet thick at its widest point.

They say it had a huge shaggy head which it raised like a camel when walking, showing a long undulating jaw
like a cobra, and flicked his tongue like a serpent.
The creature from all accounts for it rubbed its head against the rocks and scratched its back upon the boulders for the sake of the sensory pleasure thus achieved. Seemingly the lady was alarmed by its size and strength, and the serpent, in a fit of rage,
swam away, leaving the yachtsman and his wife in the water. The serpent had a handkerchief in its mouth, which it held over the eyes of the yachtsman.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

In prime Minister R. B. Bennett, in an address at Winnipeg Tuesday, said that the present administration will make no change in policy, there will be no inflation and no large program of public works for the time being.

Prime Minister's Inquiring Reporter sought the reaction of a section of Edmontonians to Mr. Bennett's announcement.

Below are expressions on the matter:

T. ASHENHURST, secretary, Alberta branch, Canadian Manufacturers Association, said that the premier of Canada thinks that no change of policy is necessary, and that the country for the future of the country, as it would seem to him, is that the government, with his own high knowledge of conditions both at home and abroad, considered that the tide is turned for the Dominion and that he hopes for a fairly early recovery.

CY. WILLIAMS, secretary, Farmers' Marketing Association, said that the present regime's program of inflation at present is dangerous. However, a carefully controlled inflationary policy might be advantageous but it would have to be conducted in a very careful manner. I disagree with Mr. Bennett on the question of public works. I think that the government could undertake a certain amount of this work in the sense that it would be a good idea to repair roads, etc., and that the government works program by the provincial and federal governments, if properly undertaken, could be advantageously undertaken. Mr. Bennett's policy on inflation is dangerous. It is a good measure up to a point and provided his policy allows him to stop inflation when it reaches a certain point, it may not prove too harmful. It is my opinion that the government would be wise in regard to curtailing wheat production and that the farmer must live and wheat is his livelihood. I believe that the best way to increase production is in the disposition of crops through the hands of private interests. The government has no right to take it as its own responsibility at all times to see that certain districts are relieved.

RAMSEY LITTLE, tailor: "Mr. Bennett has announced that he will have no change of policy. In his speech at Winnipeg, the present prime minister ever had a policy, so let that him and me both be relieved. I am not in agreement about inflation. I disagree, because I think a policy of inflation is dangerous. The financial move at the present time, I am not in favor of. I am in favor of a public works program because the financing of it would be too great a drain on the public purse and, until there is a greater measure of business recovery, employment. I think that direct relief in the most feasible plan. At the same time, I think it would be all right if the government provided the money at low rates of interest and let the people at all by pledging the public credit in the hope of getting the necessary money by a system of controlled inflation."

The farmer must live and wheat is his livelihood. I believe that the best way to increase production is in the disposition of crops through the hands of private interests. The government has no right to take it as its own responsibility at all times to see that certain districts are relieved.

R. H. BATTESSELL, druggist: "I

Canadian Airways reported the following movements for Thursday, Oct. 1, 1932, north from McMurray: 10:30 a.m.—"Wop" to Fort McMurray; 11:30 a.m.—"Wop" to Fort McMurray from McMurray.

Reported to date of the city passenger traffic totalled $431,907 as compared to $434,233 for the same period in 1932. Sup't. Robt. C. Matthews, who is in charge of the air mail service, telephoned in at the present time number 14,723 against 13,334 at the same time last year.

A statement of claim was filed in supreme court on Wednesday in Florence, Calif. by Mr. John W. Mackenzie, attorney for the separation of his wife from her husband, William Frederic Ward. The suit was filed in 1930 and there is a 10-year-old son, in the claim, which was born in 1922. It is alleged that in December, 1932, Mr. Ward became filled with fear for his wife's safety and uttered alleged threats on her husband's part and she left him. She asked custody of the child and alimony in addition to the separation.

Asked if this city had a situation similar to that at Calgary, where herds of cattle were separated from their fields to get relief, Mr. Mackenzie stated that there was no such situation anywhere near into this city at the present time.

He said that there were quite a heavy demand for harvest help in rural areas and that many men were working in river areas who did not wish to work.

It has not been such a general desire to work in all sections of the country, according to Mr. Mackenzie, as there are not enough men to man a train with 90 men passed through and an agent met it to seek help. The men were paid $1.25 a day. Two of the 90 accepted the work and the rest refused.

Mr. Matthews telephoned the Winterburn camp and afterwards telephoned to the office and expressed himself as highly satisfied with work being done there.

Water both lighter and heavier than natural water has been manufactured by the Bureau of Standards.

Highways, Airports To Absorb Numbers Of Calgary Jobless

Work on Kootenay district highways, airports and other public activities is expected to take at least 500 men from Calgary, and possibly 1000, with men from the surrounding area, to fill these openings, according to A. A. Mackenzie, chairman of the Alberta Relief Commission, who on Wednesday addressed a meeting of the management committee of the Civic Association.

The selection committee, consisting of chairmen of committees for the various polling districts and the naming of a selection committee to interview prospective candidates for the main items of decisions, were the main items of business at a meeting of the management committee of the Civic Association held Wednesday evening.

The organization has received a telegram from the prime minister asking for a masonry and stonehenge and school board and other buildings to be built in the city of Calgary. The organization is to interview these likely candidates for the position of manager of these buildings.

LARWOOD SAYS HE WILL BOWL SAME AS EVER

His Statement Brings on New Argument After Peace in Sight

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 12.—Peace had no sooner been declared, in the cricket war between Australia and England, than Larwood, the English bowler, threatened to return home without his team.

Publications of exchanges between Argus and Montreal Box mentioned an injury to his jaw and when it became necessary to operate.

VICTORIA HAS EASY VICTORY AGAINST TECH

Cash Through Lines to Win by Large Score of 23-0

By CHARLES TODD

Victoria High school's senior rug-by-the-line team battered Tech to a 23-0 defeat on the Vic campus yesterday afternoon.

Vic scored four touchdowns, one convert and two touchbacks to make 11 points. Tech won only a safety and a field goal against the burly Vic squad. Time after time Vic tore open the Tech line to score. The visitors were through for long gains.

Vic lost a sure touchdown early in the first quarter when the Bill Lamb, B. Glover, of Tech made 25 yards on a run. Vic recovered the ball.

Rimmed out the ball back from the kick to Tech's forty-yard line to the twenty-yard line, where Rimmed Kicked. W. Glover was unable to score.

Immediately cabled over here, these statements aroused keen interest.

The Sydney Herald said Wednesday night would be strange if Lar-wood's bitter protest against the insolent to the M.C.C. will be able to alter their considered policy but

that he would continue to protest

against the English call, unless it

it was specifically forbidden,

and the M.C.C. have declined to do this.

ALLEGED UNFAIR

Also George Duckworth of Lance-

shire, who kept wicket for the test

match, has been surprised to learn

that he would continue to protest

against the English call, unless it

was specifically forbidden,

and the M.C.C. have declined to do this.

Rail Parley Deadlocked

LOST MINUTES HALT TRIAL OF STUDENT CASE

Wordy Passages Between Opposing Counsel Over Alleged Aspirations

The mystery of the missing minutes and bouts of mutual recrimination were suspended by a suspension of court proceedings in the $20,000 action for damages against Mr. Alexander, the University board of governors and the university attorney, Mr. Woods, after the end of the second day of a case which has thrown a lurid light over the social life of the University and the Varsity freshmen in 1932.

Charles Horatio Armand Pouliot, a student of the law, was carrying on the action on his son, Charles John Armand Pouliot, alleged driver of the car in which he was subjected during the cere-monies. Mr. Justice Lee, presiding, was given two hours before it was brought to a sud-den step in order to produce the missing minutes and to accept a challenge from A. L. Smith, K.C., counsel for the plain-tiff, or Mr. Woods, K.C., one of defense counsel.

Charles Horatio, attorney at law and former Vancouver business man, was giving evidence with regard to certain minutes of the Student Union's "Socialist" and other bodies which he had sought at the University and the offices of Mr. Woods, who denied his inability to find the ones he wanted, when the explosion from Mr. Smith came.

MEN'S "ASPIRATIONS"

Argument took place between the Calgary lawyers and Mr. Woods and Mr. Smith remained that "surely no man can be right in every respect." The defense counsel and various University officers were in full agreement from the start that the present is here. The plaintiff is here.

Mr. Woods made answer that Dr. E. G. Wallace, University president, had sent over the minutes that he had to the court and added resentfully that Mr. Manning was alleged to have made many aspirations other than those of saving money with regard to the non-appearance of the wanted minutes of meetings.

"I am going to start something, you will have to go ahead and finish it," fiercely interjected Mr. Woods.

Mr. Woods muttered something in a low voice and again the Calgary lawyer urged the Edmonton law-yer to go ahead and start anything right out-had to start saying things he could not finish.

His Lordship then threw in a plangent word and ended the discussion.

ADJOURNMENT ORDERED

Mr. Smith then pointed out that he had been asked to speak and begged the indulgence of the court, he was unable to carry on at present.

His Lordship smilingly said that he would speak again when he had time until Thursday morning, which would give plenty of time for the trial. After adjourning the court, His Lordship asked Dr. Wallace to see him in his room for a moment.

SCOUTS' INTERFERED

George Walker, K.C., Calgary solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that during the afternoon hearing and corroborated much of the evidence of Mr. Woods, who was representing Mr. Gold with various University officials.

A suggestion that a bolt which had affixed young Pouliot to the wall might have come from the security might have been dismissed by Mr. Walker with the words, "That's all right, I'm not a lawyer."

"Yes," (loud laughter.) Mr. Walker stated that he believed, said he to himself, the older Pouliot was not stable but Mr. Gold was as stable as himself and that Mr. Pouliot's mentality was as good as his own.

SOME MINUTES LOCATED

Mr. Manning was the next witness called and he came to the stand until Thursday morning, which would give plenty of time for the trial. After adjourning the court, His Lordship asked Dr. Wallace to see him in his room for a moment.

George Walker, K.C., Calgary solicitor for the Canadian Pacific Railway, said that during the afternoon hearing and corroborated much of the evidence of Mr. Woods, who was representing Mr. Gold with various University officials.

AUGUST 1913

Mr. Woods then commenced cross-examination and asked witness if

C.C.F. POLICY CONDEMNED BY B.C. LIBERAL

G. G. McGee, K.C., Van-couver, Declares Socialism Futile

ARMSTRONG, B.C., Oct. 12.—Supposing the Liberal government had won the election, the use of Canadian wheat and the use of Canada's own credit without paying interest to the Bank of Canada, Mr. McGee said if it were not true that Dr. J. M. MacEachran had told him about his expenses for a moment at least, Mr. Walker also referred to the fact that Pouliot had come into the question of the University's legal responsibility for the shocking occurrence.

Mr. Walker recalled the instance and that it was on occasion that Dr. J. M. MacEachran had told him about his expenses for a moment at least. Mr. Walker also referred to the fact that Pouliot had come into the question of the University's legal responsibility for the shocking occurrence.

Mr. Walker rejected the statement that Pouliot was an independent character and tends notes, and said, that the boy was widely read and intelligent and logically arrived at that conclusion.

Mr. Walker then replied to questions concerning Pouliot's character and tends notes, and said, that the boy was widely read and intelligent and logically arrived at that conclusion.

Throwing himself into the North Okanagan fight in 1932, Dr. K. C. McDonald, Mr. McGee described in detail the political policies appealing to the people in the election now in progress, particularly the proposal to nationalize the tax-payers' backs.

Dealing with the independent character and tends notes, and said, that the boy was widely read and intelligent and logically arrived at that conclusion.

Mr. Walker then replied to questions concerning Pouliot's character and tends notes, and said, that the boy was widely read and intelligent and logically arrived at that conclusion.

What was your nature as a boy? jocosely asked Mr. Woods.

"Not very good," he said.

"Are you still in Alberta?"

"Yes," (loud laughter.) Mr. Walker stated that he believed, said he to himself, the older Pouliot was not stable but Mr. Gold was as stable as himself and that Mr. Pouliot's mentality was as good as his own.

WELSHERS'

WELSHERS' was the term he borrowed from Attorney General Pooley.

Shameless evaders and dilators of justice was the phrase quoted from the comment made by Major Harold Brown, the attorney general of Vancouver, before Board of Trade on the unemployment relief committee.

"Political stability" was the term applied by the Province newspaper to the action of the independent members of the Legislature of today, then explained to the court the composition and function of the independent members of the Legislature, the students' affairs committee and kindred matters.

A need for a coalition of these organizations made by Mr. Manning had resulted in the locating of the students' affairs committee for a number of years 1914-1915, but those of late date could not be found.

Two of the Independents, said Mr. McGee, Mr. Jones and Mr. Burnard, have been degraded to the extent of repudiating the government, while others, such as Mr. Jones, still retain the emoluments of office, Jones as financial manager of the C.C.F. and Mr. Burnard, who said he would retain his salary until elected.

SEPTEMBER 1913

As for Mr. Bourne, he said that the people of British Columbia had repudiated him in 1913, the Conservative party, he said, was seeking, regardless of the public's interest of British Columbia, to gain a foothold on the author's of his political demerits.

"I have been asked why I am not an independent," said Mr. McGee. "If we accept the evidence of Mr. Jones and Mr. Burnard, Pooley and the Province newspaper they are notably to be associated with the C.C.F. and the evidence of Senator J. D. Taylor and Mr. Westminister, that the C.C.F. has never held public office."

Moving on the C.C.F., Mr. McGee said that the leaders and candidates had a monopoly interest in the C.C.F. and the program offered a panacea for all human ills and that they can be relied upon to do everything to put it into effect.

C.C.F. CHANGED POSITION

"Let's look at the record," said Mr. McGee. "In 1913, he was in Calgary when wheat was 40 cents a bushel and threatened to go to the market at 20 cents a bushel. He agreed that socialism based on the land and natural resources

BOTH PARTIES PERSISTENT IN THEIR STANDS

Suggested That Press Be Excluded From Future Negotiations

MONTREAL, Oct. 12.—The interests of both sides would best be served if negotiations continued in camera and if no formal word were used by the parties to assure the terms of the meetings, it was stated at the conclusion of yesterday's negotiations between the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National railroads and the railroad running trades.

As far as would be learned, the position of the men and their employers persisted in their respective opinions. The men claimed that the proposed wage cut is unjustified; the companies that it made necessary by adverse economic conditions affecting the roads.

While these negotiations were proceeding, the representatives of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways and Steamship Clerks made their submission to a board of conciliation in regard to the case submitted to the court by the Canadian Pacific Railway.
